Norton Healthcare officially takes over King's Daughters' Health

13-month negotiation completed with announcement

BY BOB DEMAREE

After more than 13 months of negotiations, it was announced on Monday morning that Madison-based King's Daughters' Health has officially joined the Louisville-based Norton Healthcare system.

The local hospital, established in 1899, and all of its clinics and other properties will now operate as Norton King's Daughters' Health and be the fifth adult-service hospital in the Norton Healthcare system but the first outside of Louisville. Norton Healthcare now operates six hospitals overall, including Norton Children's Hospital.

Dave Ommen, public information officer for KDH, said Norton Healthcare acquired King's Daughters' Health through member substitution, which allows Norton to assume full ownership of KDH from the Bethany Circle of King's Daughters' and Sons, meaning that Bethany Circle no longer has any ownership of the hospital. Terms of the membership solution are not being disclosed by KDH and Norton.

Norton Healthcare and King's Daughter's Health signed a letter of intent in November 2020 to explore a more official arrangement — one that would build on their existing affiliation agreement for oncology (cancer) services through Norton Cancer Institute at KDH Cancer Treatment Center in Madison.

When the letter of intent was signed, Annie Schroeder, chair of the KDH board of managers, and president of Bethany Circle, said both the board and Bethany Circle members believed sharing additional resources and expertise between KDH and Norton Healthcare would benefit patients, physicians, team members and the community. Given that greater access to health care benefits local communities, the board wanted KDH to grow and thrive well into the future.

"The founding members of the Bethany Circle of King's Daughters' opened the King's Daughters' Hospital because they recognized the need for local families to have access to health services," Schroeder said. "For more than 120 years, we have continued that mission. Today's announcement to become part of Norton Healthcare ensures that KDH will remain an integral part of the community for many years to come."

"King's Daughters' commitment to quality, their talented providers and employees who support them, as well as their deep connections to community have long been impressive to us," said Russell F. Cox, president and CEO of Norton Healthcare. "We are honored to have King's Daughters' Health become a part of Norton Healthcare. Together, we will ensure exceptional care close to home and increased access to specialty care as needed. We already share similar cultures as proven community leaders with a deep commitment to our employees, to our patients and their families, and to the communities we are honored to serve. Today we are delighted to welcome the providers, caregivers and employees of King's Daughters' Health to the Norton Healthcare family."

Ommen said the move includes all KDH locations from the hospital itself, to the physicians clinics on Madison's hilltop and downtown to satellite offices in Hanover, Versailles and Vevay in Indiana and Carrollton and Milton in Kentucky as well the urgent care rehabilitation center, home health and hospice facilities and services

"Today, they are all part of Norton King's Daughters' Health" said Ommen, noting that all services will "continue to operate as before."

In addition, Ommen said billing procedures will remain the same, and patients "will be able to speak with local representatives from Norton's KDH regarding billing, insurance coverage, appointments and medical information.

He said while existing services will continue to operate as they have, he noted

Madison targets blight elimination in 2022

City hires new code enforcement officer

BY BOB DEMAREE

The City of Madison is moving forward with its efforts toward blight elimination with the hiring of Duane O'Neal as the city's code enforcement officer.

The announcement made by Nicole Schell, director of planning for the City of Madison, at Monday's meeting of the Board of Public Works and Safety.

O'Neal, a former U.S. Marine who started work Monday after most recently working as manager of Shooters Restaurant and Sports Bar, will be handling the city's nuisance complaints and unsafe structures.

"I am very excited," said Schell, who said O'Neal was receiving training on Monday from John Schuring, part-time nuisance officer. "This will be the first time the city has had a person dedicated as code enforcement officer."

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney said O'Neal and Schell will help the city achieve "our goals for our blight elimination plan. We're already making progress. This is an additional investment that the city is making in order to continue to make progress and deal with our blighted and nuisance structures."

Additionally, Courtney said the city is implementing the iWorQ software program to help better manage structures in the city.

"That will be a game-changer for all the goals we want to accomplish in regards to simplifying the permitting process" by moving away from paper-driven functions to a Cloud-based system, he said. "We will be using it for our blight elimination plan for nuisance and unsafe structures."

Schell noted that eventually the city will be set up to handle all planning applications through the iWorQ software platform.

In a related report on the city's blight elimination efforts, Schell said progress has been made to clean up a property owned by Bonnie Cox, 1202 Wells Drive, that was damaged by fire on Dec. 19, 2020.

Tentative dates set for 2022 events at Hanover Parks

BY BOB DEMAREE

Hanover Parks Director Scott Davidson announced a tentative schedule of activities for 2022 at Tuesday's meeting of the park board.

The dates include an Easter egg hunt on April 9, May Day festival on May 7 and Spooky Trail on Oct. 22. Plans are to turn the lights on for the second annual Tinsel Twinkle Trail on Nov. 25 with the Holly Jolly Santa Celebration tentatively set for the second weekend in December.

"The park has been alive and well all year long," said Davidson, noting that none of the events this year took place the year before. "One year ago, there was nothing. Not even a hint of a Tinsel Twinkle Trail."

In addition there were no games being played on park ball fields, but all that changed this past year and much more is planned for the future, Davidson said.

"I appreciate the town council support, the park committee and all the volunteers," said Davidson. "This past year has been an unbelievable success."

• Davidson announced three new members on the park committee — Brian Crank, Barb Ford and Zac Leach. They join Don Server, Rick Schnebelt, Doug Rusk, Narci Burress, Nancy Totten and Karen Jester, along with Davidson.

• The girls basketball season is underway on Monday nights and Saturday mornings with three leagues (kindergarten and first grade, second and third grades, and fourth through sixth grades) involving 70 girls. "It's been a pretty good success so far," Davidson said.

• Preparation work is underway for upcoming baseball and softball seasons with tentative workouts beginning March 28 and games starting in May.

• Davidson reported that approximately $21,000 in total donations were received for the Holly Jolly Santa Celebration from people throughout the community, which he said doesn't include mittens, cookies, candy canes and contributions from Lanthier Winery. He said $114 was contributed in donation boxes and cash contributions toward bicycles totaled $1,700 — not including the $25,000 donation from the Rick Russell Family to the bicycle giveaway and Hanover Parks programming.

He said $930 was raised from the Sugar Plum Bake-Off in which half of the money goes to Hanover senior citizen programming and the other half back into the Tinsel Twinkle Trail. Davidson said the final tally of bicycles given away was 140, which he said was lower than the 164 earlier projected.

"Overall, it was an unbelievable event. The community is still buzzing about it," Davidson said.

Norton Healthcare is currently exploring opportunities to increase access to more primary care and certain specialty care services in the Madison area. He said this could involve time share opportunities for specialty care and/or primary care and specialist workforce investments.

"The first priority will be to continue the high-level of quality care that patients of King's Daughters' Health have come to expect," Ommen said. "One of the ways we will do that is through the installation of EPIC at Norton King's Daughters' Health. An electronic health record is key to keeping patient care records secure and accessible. Having access to MyNortonChart, powered by EPIC, will be a tremendous asset to helping Madison area patients better manage their health care. We will also continue to learn from each other and share best practices."

Is it OK to contact former girlfriends?

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: When I was a 21-year-old assistant English instructor (an "intern") at a summer program for high school seniors in New Hampshire, I developed an interest in one of the students. She was 18. The relationship was completely chaste. I'm not kidding. I never touched her, and she never touched me. But we were clearly attracted to each other and spent time talking outside of class.

That fall, she sent me a newsy letter in Ohio, where I was working. It included her hope that I remembered her. I must have written back, having broken up with my long-term girlfriend, because I received a second letter saying she would "give anything to have a go at a relationship." I kept both letters, along with many other letters from my former girlfriend, two male friends and four other young women.

Fifty years later, I've been very happily married for 46 years. Our children are grown, and we're preparing to downsize, which means sorting through two shoeboxes of old letters, among other things. I sent one of my male friends a packet of the letters he sent me when he was on a fellowship in Europe for a year. I'll probably do the same with the stack of letters from my college roommate.

But what about the women? The woman in New Hampshire has such a distinctive name that I know I can contact her on social media and ask if she would like to see her letters. My wife does not disapprove. She knows I'm not trying to rekindle a relationship.

I don't want to do anything that might seem creepy, but I also prefer to avoid double standards. If any of my former girlfriends offered to send me the letters I wrote them many decades ago, I would enjoy walking down nostalgia lane and then discarding my own letters.

What do you say? — Trip Down Memory Lane

Dear Memory Lane: It is wonderful that your wife does not disapprove and that your intentions are the same as the intentions you had with your college roommate and friend, but I would say no. Throw the letters away so you don't risk rekindling an old romance.

Dear Annie: My husband always punishes me and shows no interest in our relationship. He sleeps on the sofa and storms in and argues with me. He says it's because I drink too much.

Even days when I do not drink, or periods of time when I do not drink, he still does this.

I just want a loving, caring relationship. I realize my drinking is part of the problem, but I feel we are in a cycle where he punishes me and then I don't want to change. — Unhappy Marriage

Dear Unhappy: The first person you have to start having a loving and caring relationship with is yourself. Once you have that, finding a loving relationship with your husband will be much easier. Take some time off drinking, and see if the clarity it brings you shifts your relationship. If your husband continues to ignore you and argues with you all the time, then it might be time to seek the help of a professional marriage counselor.

Let your children fly

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I cried when I was reading the letters from parents about not letting go of their children in college. My mother was so strict with me that I was not even allowed to go to college.

A new local college was opened the year I graduated from high school, but my parents' excuse for me not to go was that they couldn't afford it. They also asked me how I was going to get there since it was 25 miles from home. They decided that, since I was a girl, I did not need a car, even though they bought both of my brothers a car when they turned 16.

I could not even get a job because we lived in the country and there were no businesses close by. They finally allowed me to go to "beauty school" to learn how to do hair, which I hated. After graduating from that and getting my license, I still could not work because, they asked, "How are you going to get to work without a car?" It was always just one roadblock after another.

I was not even allowed to date, while all of my friends were going out with boys to parties and such. My mother didn't trust me. Honestly, I don't know why because I never had boys come to visit me on the farm. I think that I was 18 or 19 before I had my first date, and even then, Mom was not sure about it.

Needless to say, the first male who asked me to get married was the one I chose. I could not wait to get out of that house, but as it turned out, the man I did marry was a HUGE mistake.

My brother was in the Navy, and while he was stationed in Florida, he asked me to fly down there to spend time with him. He had a married friend who said that I could bunk with them. I was finally working in a factory at this time, so I had my own money, but my parents said, "NO!" They actually told me that if I went, I would not be welcome back home again.

Honestly, I never could understand why they, especially my mother, distrusted me so much. I never gave her any reason to, and when I questioned her, all she would say was, "Oh, I trust you." I feel as if I missed so much in my teenage years. I even thought about joining the Navy, to which my mother said, "No way in hell!" At that time, I still had animals on the farm, and I knew that if I did join, my parents would dump them. So, I just stayed home.

The funny thing is that a cousin's wife said that she was in the Navy and that she really enjoyed it and that I should have joined. Thanks for listening. Please keep telling parents to let their children "spread their wings" because it is the way they grow up. — Caged Bird

Dear Caged: What your mother did to you was not fair. She said she trusted you with her words, but her actions painted a much more hurtful picture. The fact that you wrote this letter and see the importance of giving children their own wings to fly out of the nest shows you can already fly. You are doing it with your pen and by telling your story. Now that you are an adult, it's not too late to get a job, go to college, move out on your own and live a life that you want to live.

Your mother's restrictions were no doubt imposed on you from her own insecurities and fears about the world. She loves you, but her way is not necessarily the most loving way. And you know that. Spread your wings.

Madison wrestlers finish 4th in Cub Classic

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison wrestling closed out its own Cub Classic with two wins and a loss on the final day of competition Thursday at home.

The Cubs posted a 66-18 win over Paoli and a 54-21 win over Washington before falling 66-9 to former Hoosier Hills Conference rival Jeffersonville.

Overall, Madison went 5-3 over the two-day event and finished fourth overall. East Central, which is ranked fifth in the state, won the event.

"Overall we wrestled really well. But for some reason, we wrestled the worst match of the season against Jeffersonville," Madison coach Tyson Skinner said.

Madison managed just a pair of wins against the Red Devils and saw star junior Van Skinner suffer his first loss of the season. Skinner, ranked eighth in the state at 195 pounds, dropped an 8-1 decision to Jeff's Evan Clayton.

"He gave up a questionable takedown on the edge and that changed the whole tone of the match," said Tyson Skinner. "He has beaten that kid several times so a loss before the state tourney is just what he needs to refocus."

Van Skinner went 2-1 on the day and finished the Classic with a 7-1 record and is currently 34-1 on the season.

Brayden Richards won all three of his matches on the day at 152 pounds and finished the event with a 6-2 record. Jake Dyer (113 pounds), Eli Stewart (120), Tazman Shipley (138), Noah Burkhardt (145), Cameron Wall (160), and Brayden Brewer (285) each were 2-1 on the tournament.

"Noah had a solid weekend as well and both (Van and Noah) have a shot to make a run to the last weekend of the season," coach Skinner said.

Don Chen (220) went 1-1 on the day for the Cubs while Danny Mack (106), Trenton Bivens (132), Travon Resendiz (170/182) and Ayden Waggoner (170/182) were each 1-2 on the day.

Madison, now 25-7 in dual matches this season, returns to action this weekend for another event on its home mat. The Cubs will host the annual Nick Shadday Memorial Tournament at Salm Gymnasium starting at 9 a.m. on Saturday.

Bengals rally past Chiefs 34-31, clinch AFC North title

BY MITCH STACY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CINCINNATI — Patrick Mahomes had a message for young Bengals star Ja'Marr Chase when the two met on the field after Cincinnati's dramatic 34-31 win over Kansas City to clinch the AFC North title.

"Keep going — we'll see you in the playoffs," the Chiefs quarterback told Chase.

The Bengals (10-6) are finally back in the postseason, thanks to Chase and quarterback Joe Burrow, who both shattered team records on Sunday. Chase's 266 receiving yards was more than Mahomes had passing (259) in the game.

Kansas City (11-5) had its eight-game winning streak snapped and fell out of the top seed in the AFC, ceding that spot to Tennessee.

The last Cincinnati playoff appearance was 2015 when the team started 8-0 and won the division, only to lose a bizarre wild-card game to the Steelers. The Bengals haven't won a playoff game in three decades.

There were plenty of heroics from a new generation of Bengals.

In addition to breaking Jerry Butler's NFL rookie record of 255 yards for Buffalo against the New York Jets on Sept. 23, 1979, Chase set a record for receiving yards in a season by a rookie. He has 1,429 yards with one game left in the league's first 17-game season, surpassing Minnesota's Justin Jefferson, who had 1,400 yards in 2020.

He had 11 catches, including three touchdowns.

Joe Burrow threw for 466 yards and four scores while outdueling Mahomes, and the Bengals rallied from three 14-point deficits against the AFC West champs, finally closing them out when rookie Evan McPherson kicked a 20-yard field goal as time expired.

"That was fun," said Burrow, who puffed on a victory cigar in the locker room that running back Joe Mixon had left for him a couple weeks ago.

Cincinnati completed a worst-to-first turnaround, winning its division the year after finishing in last place. It makes 17 of the past 19 seasons in which at least one team finished in first place the season after finishing in last or tied for last place.

The Bengals' winning drive was filled with drama.

On fourth-and-inches with under a minute left, Cincinnati decided to go for a touchdown instead of calling on McPherson for a field goal and giving the Chiefs the ball back with a chance to win.

"I knew we'd go for it," Burrow said. "They've got Patrick Mahomes on the other side. He could go down and win the game."

Burrow threw incomplete in the end zone, but Chiefs cornerback L'Jarius Sneed was flagged for illegal use of hands, giving the Bengals a fresh set of downs. With Burrow limping on the sideline, backup quarterback Brandon Allen was called on to kneel twice before McPherson came on for the game-winner.

Burrow said his right knee was sore but insisted he could have stayed in the game and will be fine.

The second-year quarterback was outstanding again, completing 30 of 39 attempts. He was sacked four times and hit at least six more times but was as accurate as ever, and Chase caught everything that was thrown near him.

"If you play one-on-one, good luck with that," Burrow said. "I know he's down there somewhere. I just throw it and let him make a play."

Mahomes looked as if he had the game under control early. He threw two first-quarter touchdown passes to give the Chiefs the early lead, but he didn't get another one.

The Chiefs led 14-0, 21-7 and 28-14 in the first half. They were ahead 28-17 at halftime before the Bengals began the latest of several second-half surges this season.

A 69-yard TD pass from Burrow to Chase early in the second half cut the Chiefs' lead to 28-24. Kansas City responded with Harrison Butker's 34-yard field goal.

Burrow then hit Tyler Boyd for a 5-yard TD, capping an 86-yard drive that was twice extended by flags on Sneed, including an unnecessary roughness penalty that gave Cincinnati first-and-goal at the Kansas City 7.

Mahomes was 26 for 35 for 259 yards and threw touchdown passes to Demarcus Robinson and tight end Travis Kelce, who caught a pass in his 125th straight game.

Kansas City's Darrel Williams rushed for 88 yards and scored twice.

"You just go back to work, you don't point fingers," Chiefs safety Tyrann Mathieu said. "You don't blame coaches, you don't blame a particular player or a particular series, you just go back to work. You keep bonding with your teammates, you keep that chemistry alive and you keep believing in your coaches, as well."

BURROW KEEPS BANGING

Burrow has 971 passing yards, eight touchdowns and zero interceptions in his last two games. On Sunday, he shattered the franchise record for passing yards in a season (4,611), passing Andy Dalton, who had 4,293 yards in 2013. Burrow also now holds the single-season franchise record for passing TDs with 34 (Dalton had 33 in '13). He has passed for 300-plus yards six times this season, also a Bengals record. He has four career games of 400-plus yards, the most of any player in his first two seasons since Hall of Famer Dan Marino had three in his first two years.

INJURIES

Chiefs: RT Lucas Niang suffered a knee injury in the first quarter and did not return.

Bengals: LG Quinton Spain suffered a right ankle injury in the second quarter and didn't return.

UP NEXT

The Chiefs are at Denver in the regular-season finale next Saturday. Kansas City can still secure the AFC's top seed with a victory and a loss by Tennessee, which plays at Houston next Sunday.

The Bengals finish the regular season Sunday at Cleveland.

Grady scores 23 as Kentucky beats Smith, High Point

BY STEVE MCCLAIN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Tubby Smith returned to Kentucky, and Kellan Grady stole the show.

Grady spoiled Smith's trip to Rupp Arena, making seven 3-pointers to lead No. 18 Kentucky to a 92-48 victory over High Point on Friday.

Smith coached Kentucky for 10 years from 1997-2007, winning the NCAA title in 1998. The High Point alum was hired to coach the Panthers in March 2018.

Kentucky raised a jersey in Rupp to honor Smith. But after the pregame ceremony, it was all Wildcats.

Kentucky shot 58% from the field in the first half and led 43-25 at the break. High Point closed to 47-34 on Zach Austin's 3-pointer with 17:14 left, but Grady responded with three more 3s during an impressive burst.

"(Coach John Calipari) mentioned during starting lineups he was going to run a couple sets to give me the opportunity to get a couple shots," said Grady, who finished with 23 points.

TyTy Washington had 15 points and nine assists for the Wildcats (11-2), and Oscar Tshiebwe finished with 15 points and eight rebounds.

Austin and John-Michael Wright each had 12 points and six rebounds for High Point (6-8).

STANDING OVATION FOR SMITH

Fans packed Rupp Arena early to witness the unveiling of Smith's jersey before the game. As the former Kentucky coach made his way to the floor during warmups, the crowd applauded and chanted "Tubby! Tubby!"

"You want to enjoy the moments and savor these opportunities. When you do your job and do it the best of your ability, people respect that," Smith said. "And I think that is a testament to the values we tried to instill in our players and family."

STAT PACK

Thanks to the large margin, Kentucky's starters left the game with about 10 minutes to play.

The Wildcats got valuable minutes from their reserves, including Lance Ware, who had five rebounds and two blocked shots in eight minutes of play, and Jacob Toppin, who had six points and six rebounds in nine minutes.

BIG PICTURE

Kentucky went 18 for 31 from 3-point range. Grady was 7 for 10, and Washington went 3 for 5. The Wildcats were very efficient on offense, shooting 59% for the game and finishing with 23 assists on 39 field goals.

"When we make shots like we made today we are going to beat people and there will be a big margins," Calipari said.

UP NEXT

Kentucky faces a challenging SEC road opener on Tuesday at No. 16 LSU. It will be Kentucky's first true road game since a disappointing 66-62 loss at Notre Dame. Washington said the team has been more focused since that loss and will go at each other hard in practice to get ready for Tuesday's battle in Baton Rouge.

Georgia trounces Michigan 34-11 in CFP semifinal

BY RALPH D. RUSSO
AP COLLEGE FOOTBALL WRITER

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. — With one overwhelming half at the Orange Bowl, No. 3 Georgia showed that a humbling loss to Alabama did not break the Bulldogs.

In fact, it might have made them even stronger.

Stetson Bennett threw three touchdown passes, Nakobe Dean led an angry defense and Georgia returned to its dominant ways, beating No. 2 Michigan 34-11 on Friday night to advance to the College Football Playoff championship.

"Answered a million questions about our team, bouncing back and how you played," Georgia coach Kirby Smart said. "We've got a lot of high-character guys on this team and they played their tail off today."

Georgia (13-1) earned a rematch with Southeastern Conference nemesis Alabama (13-1) in the title game Jan. 10 in Indianapolis.

It was 27 days ago the Crimson Tide rolled through the Bulldogs, shattering their air of invincibility after a 12-0 regular season in which they were hardly challenged.

"All our guys did was work," Smart said about how they responded to the loss and three weeks of being asked what went wrong.

The Bulldogs quickly answered any questions about whether the damage from that 41-24 setback would linger.

Georgia became the first team in the eight-year history of the CFP to score on each of its first five possessions and led 27-3 at halftime.

"We knew we were better than what we showed that last game," Bennett said.

Michigan (12-2) entered its first playoff appearance off a milestone season, having ended a long drought against rival Ohio State on the way to winning the Big Ten.

"Let'er rip," Michigan coach Jim Harbaugh told ESPN moments before kickoff.

The Bulldogs most certainly did, playing like a team out to prove a point.

Georgia scored touchdowns the first two times it had the ball, moving it at will against Heisman Trophy runner-up Aidan Hutchinson and the Michigan defense.

Bennett found freshman tight end Brock Bowers for an 8-yard touchdown pass to cap an 80-yard opening drive.

"That set the tone for the game," Smart said.

Georgia grabbed a two-touchdown lead, hitting Michigan with some of the trickery the Wolverines have used so well. Tailback Kenny McIntosh swept to the right and let loose a perfect pass to Adonai Mitchell for an 18-yard TD that made it 14-0 less than five minutes into the game.

The Wolverines had rolled to their first Big Ten championship since 2004 without trailing by as many as seven points this season.

"I mean, we gave everything we got, and we got beat tonight," quarterback Cade McNamara said. "But I think once we give it a little time, we'll be able to appreciate a lot of the great things we were able to accomplish this season."

The Bulldogs tacked on field goals on their next two possessions and Bennett connected on a 57-yard touchdown pass to Jermaine Burton streaking down the sideline to make it 27-3 with 1:38 left in the half.

And that was was pretty much that. The Bulldogs outgained the Wolverines 330-101 in the first 30 minutes.

"I thought our (defensive) front controlled the line of scrimmage. I thought our offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage," Smart said. "That's a total team effort."

The Georgia defense that was setting an historic pace, allowing less than a touchdown per game before getting shredded by Alabama, smothered a Michigan offense built to bully opponents.

The Bulldogs were having none of that.

Dean, the Butkus Award-winning linebacker, diagnosed plays before the snap and chased down ball carriers from sideline to sideline.

Dean said he made note of how heading into this game, for the first time all season, Georgia's defensive dominance seemed to be in doubt.

"We always want to play with a chip on our shoulder," said Dean, who had seven tackles, two for losses, and a forced a fumble.

Massive nose tackle Jordan Davis collapsed the middle of a Michigan offensive line that won the Joe Moore Award as the best in the country.

"That was our plan going in, being a physical, more dominant front," the All-American Davis said.

Cornerback Derion Kendrick, a transfer for Clemson, had two interceptions and was the defensive player of the game.

The Wolverines finished with 88 yards rushing after coming in averaging 223 per game. McNamara was 11 for 19 for 106 yards passing.

Simply, it was no contest and now the Bulldogs will get a shot at redemption against Alabama, trying to win their first national title since 1980.

All that stands in the way is the most accomplished dynasty in the history of college football, and the rival Smart, a longtime Nick Saban assistant at Alabama, has tried to model his program after.

Oklahoma State beats Notre Dame 37-35 in Fiesta

BY JOHN MARSHALL
ASSOCIATED PRESS

GLENDALE, Ariz. — Oklahoma State was a step slow in the first half, appearing to be stuck in the desert sand while Notre Dame raced around the field.

A quick scoring drive just before halftime gave the No. 9 Cowboys a spark and they rode it one of the biggest victories in school history.

Led by Spencer Sanders, Oklahoma State pulled off the biggest comeback in Fiesta Bowl history, overcoming a 21-point deficit to beat No. 5 Notre Dame 37-35 on Saturday.

Sanders accounted for 496 yards and threw three of his four touchdown passes to Tay Martin, including a 9-yarder to cap a four-play, 75-yard drive just before halftime.

"Us going down and scoring quickly just before the half, that gave us hope," Oklahoma State Mike Gundy said. "That gave us a chance as coaches to say, 'Guys, we're fine.' "

Oklahoma State (12-2, No. 9 CFP) came up inches short of securing a College Football Playoff spot in a loss to No. 6 Baylor at the Big 12 title game and fell into 21-point, first-half hole against Notre Dame (11-2, No. 5 CFP).

Jack Coan led Notre Dame's early charge while throwing for a Fiesta Bowl-record 509 yards and five touchdowns.

Sanders and Martin brought the Cowboys back.

Sanders, who had a 9-yard touchdown pass to Jaden Bray in the first quarter, cut Notre Dame's lead to 28-14 with a 9-yard scoring pass to Martin with 37 seconds left in the first half. The pair connected for two more touchdowns, from 5 and 8 yards, to tie the game, and the Cowboys went up 34-28 on three field goals by Tanner Brown.

Sanders threw for 371 yards on 34-of-51 passing and ran for 125 yards after throwing four interceptions in the Big 12 title game. He's the second player in FBS history with 350 yards passing, 100 rushing yards and four passing touchdowns in a bowl game, joining Clemson's Tajh Boyd in the 2014 Orange Bowl.

No. 1 Alabama runs over non-PF Cincinnati in CFP semifinal

BY STEPHEN HAWKINS
ASSOCIATED PRESS

ARLINGTON, Texas — Brian Robinson Jr. grew up near the Alabama campus watching the Crimson Tide win championships, and wanting to play a big part in one.

With the fifth-year senior and first-year featured back running for a career-high 204 yards and Heisman Trophy winner Bryce Young throwing three touchdown passes, the Crimson Tide earned the chance to play for yet another national title with a 27-6 victory over Cincinnati on Friday in the College Football Playoff semifinal at the Cotton Bowl.

It was a bitter finish for Desmond Ridder and for the Bearcats, the first non-Power Five team ever to get a taste of the CFP. They were physically overwhelmed on the big stage.

"B-Rob was huge for us all night," Young said. "Making that first guy miss, falling forward fighting for those extra yards. He was a constant."

"As a young kid, just always wanted to be a part of this program. Just always wanted to play for a national championship," Robinson said. "Just being able to go out there and just lead this team in this big game on this big stage ... it's like a dream come true."

Alabama (13-1) has missed the four-team playoff only once and will try to win its second national title in a row and fourth in the eight seasons of the CFP format. The Crimson Tide will play No. 3 Georgia, the previously undefeated team Alabama beat for the SEC title, in the national championship game Jan. 10 in Indianapolis after the Bulldogs beat No. 2 Michigan 34-11 in the Orange Bowl on Friday night.

Alabama clearly was doing what it could to minimize the impact of standout Cincinnati cornerbacks Ahmad Gardner and Coby Bryant, and pretty much succeeded with Robinson rushing 26 times and Young throwing a lot of short, safe passes — though he did find hit Ja'Corey Brooks for a 44-yard catch-and-run TD on a play away from the standout defenders for a 17-3 lead just before halftime.

Kentucky rallies late to beat Iowa 20-17

BY JOHN DENTON
ASSOCIATED PRESS

ORLANDO, Fla. — Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz knew from experience that his vaunted defense would be challenged trying to contain dynamic Kentucky receiver Wan'Dale Robinson in the Citrus Bowl.

With the game on the line, Ferentz could only look on in horror as Robinson made the most spectacular play of the day to help No. 25 Kentucky rally past No. 17 Iowa 20-17 on Saturday.

Robinson made three defenders miss on a 52-yard catch-and-run, setting up Chris Rodriguez's 6-yard touchdown run that put the Wildcats back ahead with 1:48 to play. Kentucky (10-3) rallied after squandering a 13-3 halftime lead.

Robinson finished with 10 receptions for 170 yards, his second time burning Iowa. He had nine catches for 75 yards in 2020 when he played for Nebraska.

"He's just a really explosive and dynamic football player," Ferentz said of Robinson, who was voted the game's MVP. "He ended up being a factor on the back end. He was good when we faced him last time, and he's probably better now."

On the big fourth-quarter catch, Robinson caught a mid-range pass from Will Levis and darted up the sideline. He was tackled at the 1.

"Once I turned, I saw the corner coming at me and I wanted to make him miss and whoever else was coming miss, too," Robinson said. "I don't really know how to explain it. It's just instinct and you go and do it."

DeAndre Square intercepted Iowa's Spencer Petras with 48 seconds to play to seal the victory. Kentucky won a fourth straight bowl game for the first time in school history and became the fourth Wildcats team with at least 10 victories.

"We're used to it because we've won a lot of close games, and it just comes down to us caring about each other and having a toughness and resiliency," Kentucky coach Mark Stoops said. "This is a player-led team and (Levis and Robinson) are new to our team, but they have had an enormous impact. They made a big difference today."

Iowa, which rose to as high as No. 2 in the AP Top 25 before a midseason tumble, saw its winning streak in bowl games end at three. The Hawkeyes led 17-13 after Petras threw a 36-yard touchdown pass to Sam LaPorta with 10:54 to play. Petras finished 19 of 30 for 211 yards but threw three interceptions.

"You can fault (Petras) for a couple of interceptions, but we don't because it's a team effort," LaPorta said. "He's a competitor and he's tough as heck."

Cornerback Jemari Harris appeared to have capped the win for the Hawkeyes when he picked off Levis with 3:59 to play. It was Iowa's school-record 25th interception of the season. The Hawkeyes also registered seven sacks.

But the Hawkeyes elected to punt on fourth-and-1 from their own 45 with 3:38 remaining, and the punt sailed into the end zone for a touchback, setting up Kentucky's game-winning 80-yard drive.

Levis completed 17 of 28 passes for 233 yards and a short touchdown in the first half to Robinson, who rushed for 107 yards and the go-ahead score.

The Hawkeyes came in with the nation's 123rd-ranked offense (297.5 yards per game) and having scored two offensive touchdowns in their previous three games. However, they moved the ball well in the second half.

Gavin Williams ran for 98 yards on 16 carries, while Arlen Bruce IV gave Iowa its first touchdown of the day on a 20-yard sweep with 3:21 left in the third quarter. LaPorta, the latest in a long line of elite tight ends at Iowa, caught five passes for 98 yards.

Kentucky passed almost every test offensively in the early going against Iowa's stout defense. Levis connected on nine of his first 11 passes, including a 5-yard swing pass to Rodriguez for the only touchdown of the first half.

Levin completed a 34-yard strike to Robinson on a third-and-26 play, leading to a field goal for the Wildcats. Thirty-nine seconds later, D'Eryk Jackson intercepted Petras after the ball was tipped at the line by Jordan Wright.

Purdue rallies to beat Tennessee in OT in Music City Bowl

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Mitchell Fineran kicked a 39-yard field goal in overtime and Purdue finished off its best season since 2003 by overcoming a 14-point deficit and beating Tennessee 48-45 on Thursday in a record-setting Music City Bowl.

Purdue (9-4) tied for the second-most wins in program history as only the 12th team in the Boilermakers' 134-year history to win nine games. They also won their fifth game away from home, something they hadn't done since 1943.

Tennessee (7-6) missed a chance to make Josh Heupel the first Vols coach to cap his debut season with a bowl win since Bill Battle won the 1971 Sugar Bowl. The Vols also snapped a four-game bowl victory streak with a loss that dropped the Southeastern Conference to 1-5 this bowl season.

This high-scoring game featured a flurry of big plays and points in the final five minutes only to see Purdue's defense make the deciding play.

On the first possession of overtime, Jamar Brown and Kieren Douglas stopped Vols running back Jaylen Wright short on fourth-and-goal at the 1. After Purdue ran three plays, Fineran sealed the victory with his fourth field goal.

The teams combined for 1,293 yards of total offense — second-most in overall bowl history, trailing only the 1,397 yards Baylor and Washington had in the 2011 Alamo Bowl. Tennessee became the 10th team in bowl game history to run 100 or more plays, and the combined 185 plays rank seventh.

Tennessee finished with 639 yards total offense and Purdue had 623 in regulation — both bowl records before overtime. Purdue's Aidan O'Connell O'Connell — who threw five touchdown passes — easily set a mark with 534 yards passing, well above the 383 Mike Glennon had with N.C. State. Tennessee's Hendon Hooker also had five TD passes.

PEACH BOWL

NO. 11 MICHIGAN STATE 31, NO. 13 PITTSBURGH 21

ATLANTA — Payton Thorne's 22-yard touchdown pass to Jayden Reed gave Michigan State the lead with less than three minutes remaining and the Spartans overcame an 11-point deficit to beat Pittsburgh in the Peach Bowl.

Linebacker Cal Haladay's 78-yard interception return for a touchdown with 22 seconds remaining ended Pitt fill-in quarterback Davis Beville's bid for a last-minute comeback in the game the Panthers played without star QB Kenny Pickett after he opted out the game.

Thorne threw two fourth-quarter touchdown passes as Michigan State (11-2) rallied after trailing 21-10.

Cam Bright returned a fumble recovery 26 yards for a touchdown only 20 seconds into the second half for Pittsburgh (11-3). The Panthers lost fill-in starting quarterback Nick Patti to an injury in the first quarter.

Defensive end John Morgan forced the fumble by Michigan State quarterback Payton Thorne that was returned by Bright for a 21-10 lead.

Thorne completed 29 of 50 passes for 354 yards with three touchdowns and one interception. Thorne's scoring pass to Reed with 2:51 remaining gave the Spartans a 22-21 lead. A 2-point pass to Jalen Nailor pushed the lead to three points.

DUKE'S MAYO BOWL

SOUTH CAROLINA 38, NORTH CAROLINA 21

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — South Carolina coach Shane Beamer had a bucket of mayonnaise dumped over his head, putting a memorable and messy finish on the Gamecocks' victory over North Carolina in the Duke's Mayo Bowl.

Jaheim Bell had five catches for 159 yards and two touchdowns for South Carolina (7-6). Kevin Harris added 169 yards rushing and a score, helping secure the mayo bath for Beamer.

Bell came in with 338 yards receiving and three TDs during the regular season, but figured prominently into the game plan early on. The sophomore tight end got free for a 69-yard touchdown reception from converted wide receiver Dakereon Joyner and hauled in a 66-yard TD catch from former graduate assistant coach Zeb Noland on South Carolina's first two possessions.

Sam Howell threw for 205 yards and a touchdown for the Tar Heels (6-7). Reserve running back British Brooks had a bowl- record 63-yard touchdown run.

LAS VEGAS BOWL

WISCONSIN 20, ARIZONA STATE 13

LAS VEGAS — Braelon Allen ran for 159 yards and Wisconsin drained the final 9:57 off the clock with an 18-play drive that sealed the win over Arizona State.

Allen, the 17-year-old true freshman from Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin, had 101 yards by halftime for his eighth 100-yard game of the season.

Carr, Raiders beat Colts 23-20 to close in on playoff spot

BY JAY COHEN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

INDIANAPOLIS — Derek Carr and Las Vegas lost a late touchdown on a replay reversal. They surrendered a TD on a fluke play. They committed the only two turnovers of the game.

And they won. Welcome to another high point of a roller-coaster season for the Raiders.

Carr directed Las Vegas to Daniel Carlson's 33-yard field goal as time expired, and the Raiders beat Jonathan Taylor and the Indianapolis Colts 23-20 on Sunday to move one step closer to an AFC wild card.

Rallying after an embarrassing email scandal that led to coach Jon Gruden's resignation, the Raiders (9-7) earned their third straight win. They can wrap up an improbable playoff spot with a victory over the Los Angeles Chargers next weekend.

"We're finding a way to do it because we have the right kind of guys," Carr said, "and there's never been a doubt, there's never a finger pointed, you know, at this or that, and this coach is not there, and all this kind ... nobody cares.

"We have a bunch of guys that believe that and just keep going."

After Michael Badgley kicked a tying 41-yard field goal for Indianapolis with 1:56 left, Carr and the Raiders got the ball back at their 25 after a touchback. Carr found Hunter Renfrow for 24 yards on third-and-10 in the final minute, setting the stage for Carlson's fourth game-winning field goal of the season.

Renfrow's clutch catch was originally ruled a touchdown after he got up and ran into the end zone, but the call was changed when a replay review showed he was touched down.

"I'm glad I was," Renfrow said, "because then we were able to run the clock down and give Daniel another game-winning field goal."

Carr threw two interceptions, giving him a career-high 14 on the season, but he also had 255 yards and a touchdown through the air. Zay Jones had eight receptions for 120 yards, and Renfrow finished with seven grabs for 76 yards.

It was Carr's 29th career game-winning drive.

"I'm just wired, my mind, my heart, just that way, to love those moments," Carr said.

Indianapolis (9-7) had won three straight and eight of 10 to move one win away from a postseason berth. But it couldn't hold a second-half lead against Las Vegas.

"Disappointing loss, really disappointed we didn't do what we had to do in front of our home fans and clinch a spot in the playoffs," coach Frank Reich said.

Taylor finished with 20 carries for 108 yards and a touchdown. The NFL's leading rusher broke Edgerrin James' single-season franchise record of 1,709 yards rushing on a 9-yard carry midway through the third quarter. He has 1,734 yards to go with one game left in the league's first 17-game season.

Pickett, Dread help Penn State hold off Indiana for 61-58 win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Jalen Pickett scored 15 points and Myles Dread shot 4 of 5 — all from 3-point range — and finished with 12 points to help Penn State beat Indiana 61-58 on Sunday.

Sam Sessoms scored all 10 of his points in the second half for Penn State (6-5, 2-1 Big Ten). Seth Lundy, who went into the game averaging a team-high 14.7 points this season, finished with eight points on 2-of-10 shooting. He grabbed a career-high tying 10 rebounds, two steals and a block with just one turnover in 32 minutes.

Sessoms scored eight points as he and Dread each hit two 3-pointers in an 18-5 spurt that gave Penn State its biggest lead of the game at 51-41 midway through the second half. The Hoosiers answered with nine straight points, holding the Nittany Lions scoreless for nearly 5 minutes, to cut the deficit to a point after Rob Phinisee made back-to-back baskets. Pickett ended the drought when he hit a 3-pointer with 5:32 remaining and Penn State held on from there.

The Nittany Lions, due to health and safety protocols surrounding COVID-19, had not played since falling 84-64 at Michigan State on Dec. 11.

Trayce Jackson-Davis scored 14 of his 20 points in the second half for Indiana (10-3, 1-2). Race Thompson added nine points and 10 rebounds.

Penn State made just 21 of 51 (41%) from the field but hit 11 of 22 from 3-point range against a Hoosiers team that entered allowing its opponents to shoot 28% from behind the arc (No. 25 nationally).

Indiana cut its deficit to a point on three occasions in the final 2 minutes but the Nittany Lions responded each time. Dread's final 3 gave them a 57-53 lead with 1:50 to go before Lundy and Sessoms each hit a pair of free throws in the final minute.

Phinisee and Jackson-Davis both missed good looks from 3-point range in the final 5 seconds.

The Hoosiers made just 4 of 17 from beyond the arc and were outrebounded 39-29.

John Harrar, who left the game with what appeared to be an ankle injury but returned for the final few minutes, finished with six points and 12 rebounds for Penn State.

Indiana women top Maryland for 1st win in series

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — Ali Patberg scored 18 points, Aleksa Gulbe and Mackenzie Holmes each had a double-double and No. 8 Indiana beat sixth-ranked Maryland 70-63 in overtime on Sunday for its first victory in the 12-game series.

Indiana led by nine points with three minutes left in regulation before Maryland went on an 8-0 run. Maryland's Ashley Owusu made a reverse layup with 58 seconds left and Nicole Cardano-Hillary, a 56% free-throw shooter, went 1 of 2 from the stripe to give Indiana a 61-59 lead. Owusu used a high screen and drove the lane to tie it with 19.4 seconds left. Indiana played for the final shot but Grace Berger's free-throw line jumper was off the mark at the buzzer.

Indiana missed two free throws with 41.6 seconds left in overtime, leading 67-63, but Maryland couldn't take advantage, missing two 3-pointers on its next possession and Patberg made 1 of 2 free throws for a five-point lead.

Maryland missed all seven of its field-goal attempts in overtime, becoming the 13th opponent Indiana (11-2, 3-0 Big Ten) has held under 70 points this season.

Gulbe had 17 points and 10 rebounds and Holmes added 15 points and 14 boards. Cardano-Hillary and Berger each scored nine points as the Hoosiers only had two points from their two bench players. All five starters for Indiana played at least 40 minutes, with Patberg and Berger playing the entire game.

Angel Reese had 22 points and 12 rebounds for Maryland (10-4, 2-1). Diamond Miller, who played in just three of Maryland's first 13 games due to a sore right knee, added 17 points and Owusu finished with 10 points, going 4 of 13 from the field.

Reese had a game-high 13 points in the first half but she picked up her second foul with 3:43 left, went to the bench and Indiana scored the next six points. The Hoosiers led 33-29 at the break despite Maryland shooting 52% as the Terrapins committed 11 turnovers.

The Terps are one of the nation's highest-scoring offenses, averaging 82.8 points per game for eighth in the country, but only had 16 field goals and 16 turnovers midway through the fourth quarter against Indiana. Maryland finished 21 of 58 from the field (36.2%).

Mobley, Love help Cavaliers rally past Pacers 108-104

BY BRIAN DULIK
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CLEVELAND — Rookie Evan Mobley had 24 points and nine rebounds, Kevin Love scored 20 points and the Cleveland Cavaliers snapped a three-game losing streak with a 108-104 win over the Indiana Pacers on Sunday night.

Jarrett Allen scored 18 points and Lamar Stevens added a season-high 15 for Cleveland, which trailed 84-73 in the third quarter before going on a 17-0 run to take the lead for good. Love scored eight points in a row during the surge.

"Guys are all stepping up in different ways for us, like Lamar when we really needed it in the third quarter," said Love, who has topped 20 points in five straight games. "We scrapped in the second half and we never really stepped back once we got started."

Domantas Sabonis had 32 points, 13 rebounds and seven assists for the Pacers, and rookie Duane Washington Jr. scored a season-high 20 points. Indiana has dropped four straight overall and hasn't won on the road since Nov. 22 in Chicago.

Washington drained a 3-pointer with eight seconds left to pull Indiana within 3 at 107-104, but Brandon Goodwin split a pair of free throws to restore the Cavaliers' two-possession lead. Cleveland made 7 of 12 foul shots in the fourth quarter.

"Their run at the end of the third was the difference in the game, so that was tough," Pacers coach Rick Carlisle said. "I'm proud of the way the guys competed all night, which makes this a really disappointing result, given the effort that was given."

Allen also grabbed 11 rebounds and blocked three shots, while the recently signed Goodwin had seven points and five assists. Cleveland lost shooting guard Isaac Okoro to a left elbow injury due to a pick by Sabonis on a screen.

Mobley, the third overall pick from USC, is averaging 20.8 points and shooting 63.3% from the field in four games since exiting the NBA's health and safety protocols. He made 11 of 16 shots against Indiana.

"We want Evan to shoot the ball more because we believe it's going in every time," Allen said. "If he keeps being aggressive, we believe that's going to help us keep winning games. We really needed this tonight to give us a boost."

Justin Holiday scored 18 points on six 3-pointers, and 28-year-old rookie Keifer Sykes had 10 points and five assists in his first start for Indiana. Sykes played in South Korea, Turkey, Italy, China, Greece and Australia before signing with the Pacers on Dec. 27.

"Our defense was the reason it slipped away from us," Holiday said. "Sometimes, you don't always stay hot offensively, but a few more stops and we win the game."

Pacers guard Caris LeVert and center Goga Bitadze were added to the safety protocols earlier in the day. They have seven players in the COVID-19 program, including Malcolm Brogdon, Chris Duarte and Jeremy Lamb.
